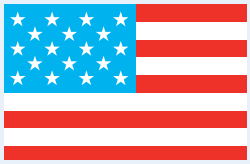
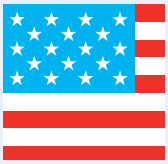
32 million Americans
use 3+ medicines daily.



3/4 of Americans
do not take their medication as directed.



50% of people
taking a chronic medication stop taking it in the first year, with the biggest drop-off occurring in the first month.

Poor medication adherence takes the lives of 125,000 Americans annually.

Non adherence costs the health care system nearly $300 billion a year in additional costs.

For every 100 prescriptions written

50-70 go to a pharmacy

48-66 come out of the pharmacy

25-30 are taken properly

15-20 are refilled as prescribed
